A SELFISH REQUEST.

Mr. Gardiner of the East End Electric Light company has preferred an unusual and, under the circumstances, a decidedly unreasonable request to the city council.

The East End company has just entered into a contract which it will be unable to begin to fulfill within the next three months.

The Phoenix Electric Light company, under a precisely similar contract, is ready to furnish lights at once, and will proceed to do so.

Mr. Gardiner for his own convenience and with a selfish disregard of that of the city desires that his company be allowed to operate exclusively in the east end because his plant happens to be located there, thereby saving wire and poles. Were he ready to begin work simultaneously with the Phoenix Electric Light company there could be no serious objection to Mr. Gardiner's request. As it is, however, to accede to it would be to leave the residents of the eastern city in Cimmerian darkness while they were assisting in paying for the light enjoyed by their more fortunate western brethren. Beside, Mr. Gardiner's plant is not yet in and there is a possibility that the eastern part of the city would be submerged in darkness for a much longer period than three months.

The equitable course of the council in this matter is to proceed wholly with reference to the interest of the greatest number and with an utter disregard of the wishes of the contractors, when those wishes in any way conflict with city interests. The natural thing to do is to make as wide a distribution of the light as if both contracts were in force at once. When Mr. Gardiner gets ready to put in light, if he ever should get ready, he should be required to distribute it over the same area thereby doubling the light all over the city.

Phoenix would present to visitors a ridiculous spectacle, one half brilliantly lighted, the other half plunged in darkness for the convenience of a tardy contractor.

It may seem paradoxical, but it is nevertheless true, to state that the darkness of the East End under Mr. Gardiner's proposed arrangement would cast a reflection upon the wisdom and judgment of the council.

DEATH OF STANFORD.

By the death of Leland Stanford the most eminent man west of the Rocky mountains has been removed. Within the correct meaning of the expression it cannot be said of him that he was a statesman though he was undoubtedly above the average of his colleagues in the senate but it may be said of him that few statesmen have been so busy or so useful. No doubt the extent and variety of his affairs have hampered him in his ascent toward the pinnacle of a statesman's fame.

Thomas Cromwell has been made to say in his estimate of the character of Wolsey that "Ipswich and Oxford those twins of learning" would form the basis of the great cardinal's fame, since all else had been lost in the displeasure of the king.

It may, with equal truthfulness, be said that Stanford's chief claim on posterity lies in Palo Alto so generously founded and endowed. If he had done nothing else, that noble young university ought to entitle him to the gratitude of his state, the entire west and the friends of learning everywhere and in all future time.

But there are many other useful things and generous deeds placed to his credit so that the dead Californian's place in the hearts of his contemporaries and on the pages of history seems secure.

HON. C. M. BRUCE.

Hon. C. M. Bruce, the new secretary of the territory, whose arrival in the city yesterday has already been noted, is a gentleman whose appointment has given universal satisfaction throughout the territory. The new secretary is not only a thorough gentleman by birth and education, but he is a business man by training and instinct. He has been a resident of the territory thirteen years. He came here from Southern Virginia in 1880 to represent several New York capitalists in extensive mining enterprises, and decided to make Arizona his permanent home. He has been more recently engaged in the stock business on a broad scale.

It may be related incidentally of Mr. Bruce that he is a brother-in-law of Mr. Thomas Nelson Page, the foremost dialectic writer in America, whose recent marriage to the widow of the late Henry M. Field has been lately chronicled. Mr. Field by the way was a brother of Marshall Field, the Chicago merchant prince of nearly a quarter of a century. Mr. Bruce has just returned from Chicago where he had gone to attend the wedding of his eminent relative.

He will be warmly welcomed to Phoenix not only as the efficient occupant of a responsible position but also as a valuable accession to the social life of capital city.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nervous centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut.

The little white lines are the nerves which cover the nerve centers from the brain to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, sleeplessness, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. Restorative Nerve positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs.

Sold by druggists everywhere
